SENATOR CLAITOR RE-ELECTED TO DISTRICT 16 SEAT WITHOUT OPPOSITION

Senator Dan Claitor will continue to serve the citizens of Senate District 16 in the 2012-2016 State Legislature. The first term Baton Rouge republican drew no opposition in his bid for re-election to another term.

Claitor, an attorney, businessman and publisher, first came to the Senate in April 2009 after winning a special election to the District 16 seat which was left vacant when then Senator Bill Cassidy was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives. Claitor's re-election will mark his first full term in the Louisiana Senate.

The Baton Rouge native currently serves as a member of the Judiciary A, Natural Resources, Revenue and Fiscal Affairs, and Senate and Governmental Affairs committees in the Senate. He is also an interim member of the Senate Finance Committee.

Members of the 2012-2016 Louisiana State Legislature will take the oath of office to begin the new term Monday, January 9, 2012.
